

National Candle Association

National Press Building • 529 14th Street, NW, Suite 750 • Washington, DC 20045
(202) 591-2455 • Fax: (202) 591-2445 • www.candles.org

For Immediate Release

Contact: Francie Israeli 202-207-1134 or frisraeli@candles.org

National Candle Association Elects Officers and Board of Directors for 2014-2015

WASHINGTON, DC – The National Candle Association (NCA) elected its officers and Board of Directors for the upcoming year during its members meeting June 2-6, 2014, in Louisville, KY, in conjunction with the Association's Annual Conference & Expo.

Nancy J. Sedlar of S.C. Johnson & Son, Inc. will serve as the Association's President for the 2014-2015 term. Rick Langley, Langley/Empire Candle LLC will serve as Vice President and President-elect. Bob Nelson of Yankee Candle Company, Inc. will serve as 1st Vice President, and Kathy LaVanier, Renegade Candles, will serve as 2nd Vice President. Rex Mason, Root Candles, was named Treasurer.

In all, NCA's Board of Directors for 2014-2015 consists of individuals representing the following NCA member companies, all of which are either North American candle manufacturers or suppliers to the candle industry:

Alene Candles Inc.; Candle Artisans, Inc.; Cathedral Candle Company; Fragrance West; Langley/Empire Candle LLC; Lumi-Lite Candle Company; The Procter & Gamble Company; Renegade Candles; Root Candles; Sasol Wax North America Corp.; S.C. Johnson & Son, Inc.; and Yankee Candle Company, Inc.

###

The National Candle Association (NCA) is the major trade association representing U.S. candle manufacturers and their suppliers. NCA is widely recognized as the world's leading technical authority on candles and candle manufacturing. Its members are dedicated to quality formulations, testing, and prudent manufacturing processes, and to upholding consumer confidence through a commitment to candle quality, safety and science.